

GOJO Public Safety Hand Hygiene Program

Safeguarding worker health when risk is part of the job.

GOJO® Soaps and PURELL® Instant Hand Sanitizer

Firefighters, law enforcement officers, EMS personnel and other public safety workers come in daily contact with dirt and germs. GOJO soaps and PURELL Instant Hand Sanitizers help maintain better hand hygiene practices, and help reduce the spread of germs that may cause illnesses.

The Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) requires employers to make handwashing facilities or antiseptics available to employees in contact with potential blood borne pathogens. And major world health organizations recommend hand hygiene strategies that include handwashing and alcohol-based hand sanitizer.

The answer: GOJO soaps and PURELL Instant Hand Sanitizer on the job... and off.

Use the advanced germ-fighting capability of GOJO and PURELL in wipes, foam and gel:

- In squad cars and other work vehicles after contact with the public
- Before and after patient contact
- In common or high traffic areas at your facility
- In gyms, locker rooms, showers, garages and firing ranges
- After processing prisoners
- At desks and work stations
- In restrooms
- In eating areas
- At the end of the shift and on personal time

The GOJO Public Safety Hand Hygiene Program fights germs where they're found.
